Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

Way back in the old days when young men took their sweethearts buggy riding during the courting season, there was no "problem" as it is now designated by the New Deal, of migratory farm farm labor. Farms were even classified according to the number of hired men maintained the year around on the farm. The hired man was almost invariably a single man, and he received besides room and board, from $25 to $30 a month in California. Sometimes the hired man married the farmer's daughter. Often he saved his wages and in time bought a farm of his own.

Contrast this idyllic condition with the migratory camp, one of which is located at Yuba City. There 1700 people live on a plot of twenty acres in what are known as 3½ room houses. More than two thirds of the camp dwellers live there only sixty days in the year. Thep pay $8.50 per month rent and that sum includes hot water, lights, in fact everything but furniture. These details were gleaned from the address of the Yuba City camp manager made last week at the Rotary luncheon and his story of rehabilitation and re-education of these migratory workers was of absorbing interest.

Besides the cottage in which the farm worker and his family live, each one has a plot of ground on which to raise vegetables. Thousands of cans of fruit and vegetables are preserved each year in this community, which helps materially in insuring family rations during the winter season when farm work is slack.

The camps were first established as a sanitary measure to safeguard the health of the various communities in which large numbers of migratory workers were located during the asparagus, the peach, the cotton, or whatever farm commodity was being seasonally harvested. Each cottage besides being provided with hot water included in the rental also has showers, electric stoves and other facilities for decent modern living. Under these conditions a high standard of cleanliness is attained.

An interesting feature of the picture drawn by the camp manager was the fact that each camp is to a large extent self governing. A camp chairman is chosen, assisted by a committee or council, and this body draws up the rules which generally govern the community. Traffic problems are cared for in this manner. Nuisances are abated and other matters of community life regulated in the Yuba City camp. A loud speaker has been installed, so that when a farmer comes in and wants to hire a certain number of men, those available are apprised of the fact immediately over the loud speaker system. A committee is also elected to hear complaints and adjudicate any disagreements that may arise as between neighbors or affecting the community. Each family contributes 25 cents per month toward an improvement fund.

Attempts are being made to inculcate in the migrant families some rudimentary knowledge of home economics and of budgeting their slender resources. In other words, they are taught to assume responsibility for their own welfare. A great many of them who came to this state to find out whether extravagant stories of the abundant life in California were true, have been sadly disillusioned and after one or two years have returned to their native states. A small proportion do take root in California and become home builders and stabilized citizens. The children are given special care and are sent to school, though because of the itinerant character of most families, schooling is bound to be a bit sketchy.

All this is undoubtedly a great improvement over the conditions which obtained when migrant families camped under bridges, along levees or holed up in culverts. But they are far from ideal, particularly with regard to rearing children to useful and intelligent citizenship. These camps fall far short of affording the opportunity of the horse and buggy days, when farm hands were in the majority or instances, members of the farm family.

Two things have brought this undesirable condition about. Spec-

Aunt Kate Sullivan Is No More

Beloved Pioneer of the Ridge Leaves Many to Mourn Her Passing

Death came to Catherine Mary Sullivan, 81 years old, Saturday evening at a local hospital. Respected and beloved throughout this section, known far and wide as "Aunt Kate", Mrs. Sullivan was born in San Francisco in 1858, and spent most of her life on the Ridge at French Corral where her late husband, J, J. Sullivan, was engaged in mining for several decades.

Aunt Kate was the soul of generous charity. Her whole life was spent in rendering kindness and good deeds to friend and stranger alike. She was one of the founders and early officers of the Columbia Parlor of Native Daughters of the Golden West, and took a deep interest two years ago in the ceremony of placing a tablet on the site of the first long distance telephone in the world. This telephone stretched from French Corral into mining districts of the mountains, 90 miles away.

Mrs .Sullivan was the daughter of early pioneers, her mother having come to California in 1858. She was educated in the schools of French Corral and attended Mt. St. Mary's Academy after completing the public school course.

For several years she was on the staff of the Nevada City Nugget, as correspondent at French Corral.

Funeral services were held this morning at St. Canice Church with Father P. J. O'Reilly officiating. Interment was in the French Corral cemetery. Funeral arrangements were in charge of the Holmes Funeral Home.

Mrs. Alice Hiscox will notify the members of Trinity Guild by post card as to the first meeting for the fall. All members are urged to attend this first meeting.

The second Sunday of each month has been set aside for baptisms. Arrangements may be made by calling on or phoning the rector at the National Hotel. The telephone number is 2.

WOMEN'S CIVIC CLUB MEETS TOMORROW

The Women's Civic club will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Charles Elliott on Nihell street. Complete plans for the big card party to be held on Thursday evening, September 26, in the auditorium of the elementary school will be announced.

The feature of the program at Tuesday's meeting will be a human comedy entitled "Life With Father", presented by Eunice Fish.

The club hopes for a large attendance at its card party, which will be held Thursday night. Mrs. Charles Elliott is chairman of the card party committee. Assisting are Mrs. H. E. Kjorlie, Mrs. Arthur Hoge, Sr., and Mrs. Morrison.

The games which will be played are auction and contract bridge, mah jong, Chinese checkers and whist. Besides prizes for the best card players, door prizes will be awarded.

S. F. Visitors—

Mrs. Elliott M. Smith of San Francisco, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Harley M. Leete, for the past week returned home yesterday with Mr. Smith and their son, Robert, who had spent the week end at the H. M. Leete home on Prospect Hill.

LONDONER SAYS GERMANS NOW OUTMATCHED

H. U. Maxfield of San Francisco, one of the owners of the Original Sixteen to One Mine at Alleghany, lately received a letter from an old friend in London, an Englishman whose view of the European outlook differs considerably from that expressed by some of our long distance observers in this country. The letter follows:

L. Beeby Thompson & Partnres
18, St. Swithin's Lane,
London, E. C. 4.
August 16, 1940.

H. U. Maxfield Esq.,
1611, Russ Building,
San Francisco.
Dear Mr. Maxfield.

Doubtless you get fairly complete news about our adventures over here. As we expected, Hitler gets more and more angry and desperate as we resist his onslaughts and laugh at his threats. We were all ready to give him a warm reception on his entry into London yesterday, but instead of appearing he vented his spite on the country side and destroyed a 700 year old church, rows of cottages in lovely villages and machine-gunned cattle and farmers in their fields.

Over my home last night we watched an attack broken up by our fighting craft and saw planes descending in flames and airmen in parachutes. Quite thrilling and no one in the least perturbed. My secretary who lives down the Thames has had nightly visits for weeks with firing and bombs, now she sleeps peacefully through it all and takes little notice.

It is quite evident that the Germans are outmatched and they dread coming over important areas. Yesterday we destroyed 144 of the raiders and at times the air was buzzing like a bee-hive. We all have funk holes into which we can go if bombs start dropping around or shell fragments fall thick.

My family is trying to get away to Canada where they have friends, but travel is not easy or safe. One way or another I am helping but they think me too old to hold a commission. With an intimate acquaintance of Egypt, Sudan, Palestine. Iraq, Arabia, Somaliland and Kenya, I have been able to give the authorities much useful information.

I hear that there is a popular view in America that we shall be beaten as Hitler is invincible. Don't you believe this nonsense. In some respects the treachery of French politicians and the collapse of France is a strength to us as we don't have to consult the views of others before we act. Still the ratting of the French put us in a terrible momentary hole as we had depended entirely on them for the protection of certain sea routes, and places like Somaliland and Sudan frontiers, and would have Tunis to wreak our vengeance in Italy. However, it is pleasing to see that America is armin gproperly for the eventual conflict that must come sooner or later. The syrens are just this moment going as I write this letter in the office to warn people to the cellars. We have a concrete chamber in the basement. People are laughing in the street as they run for shelter. Flying glass is the main danger.

With most of our army here to resist an invasion and to take the initiative if we get a chance, there is little use for the aged and if I can't be made of little use I may try to get over to Canada or U. S. A. to do some work. Here all private professional work has come to a standstill and there is likely to be nothing to do until the war is over. We are all proud of our airmen with whom many Americans, Canadians and Austrailians are working.

Europe is in a terrible mess and the Germans must be having a horrible time occupying alien territory where they are detested and despised. Roumania, Bulgaria and Yugo Slavia are being bullied and threatened by Germany and Russia. If I cross the Atlantic I shall not fail to look you up. Meanwhile kindest regards to you and your family who I know have warm hearts for us on this side.

Yours very sincerely,
A. BEEBY THOMPSON.

Success Marks Close Of Nevada County's Three Day Third Annual Fair; Plans Start For Next Year

JURORS FREE MAN CHARGED WITH SLAYING OWN BROTHER

Albert Wear, 56, held in the county jail here for more than two months on a charge of slaying his own brother, Jerry, 62, is a freeman today, acquitted of the accusation by a superior court jury of eight women and four men.

The jury deliberated only 40 minutes late Thursday before returning the not guilty verdict. A broad smile broke on Wear's face when the verdict was announced. He shook hands with his counsel, Harry McKee of this city and Eugene Ragett of San Francisco and each juror as they left the courtroom.

The prosecution attempted to prove, with Mrs. Julia Markham as the principal witness, Wear struck his brother on the head with a jug during a quarrel.

Wear denied the charge, saying his brother struck his head against a tree.

The injury which caused the death of Jerry occurred on June 10th. He died on June 30th in the Nevada County Hospital. An autopsy revealed a fractured skull was the cause of death.

Wear was set free one day before the funeral of his mother, the late Mrs. Susan Wear, 88, of Grass Valley. Mrs. Wear died the same day her son went on trial on the murder charge.

TAHOE PACIFIC ASSN. TO MEET AT CLEAR LAKE

ZEIBRIGHT MINER INJURED BY SKIP

Leon Miller, 35, is in a serious condition in the Miners Hospital here from injuries suffered late Saturday night in a skip accident at the Zeibright Mine in Bear Valley. Miller suffered severe back injuries.

The injured man was brought to the hospital here by the Holmes ambulance service. Dr. W. W. Reed is attending Miller.

Glen Cleland of Sparks, Nevada, former local business man, spent several days in Nevada City last week.

PROCEDURE OUTLINED FOR REGISTERING OF DRAFTEES

County Clerk R. N. McCormack said today his office is prepared for the registering of Nevada Countyans subject to the draft under the conscription bill.

The registration of all men between the ages of 21 and 35, aliens included, will be on one day only, October 16th.

In Nevada County, McCormack announces the registering will be at the election precincts. The county clerk will appoint one American Legion member to supervise the registering at each precinct. The two other registrars for each precinct will be selected from the election boards. All will work without pay.

County Clerk McCormack figures approximately 2,855 are eligible for registration in this county, although Adjutant General R. E. Mittelsteadt's office gave an estimate of 1,922 for the county.

Failure to comply with the conscription law and the giving of false statements carry extreme penalties, McCormack states.

Superior Judge George L. Jones will name a draft board for the county.

PROCEDURE FOLLOWS:

The United Press outlines the following procedure will be followed for Mr. Average Man:

John Doe, a young man between the ages of 21 and 35, will find the operation of the national conscription plan strikingly similar to a huge bank night, Adjutant General R. E. Mittelstaedt explained today.

John will first come in contact with the conscription machinery when he goes to his regular voting precinct on October 16 to register. He will be one of approximately 16,500,000 men army officials estimate will fall within the specified age brackets throughout the United States.

The registration will be completed on the one day. If Young Doe happens to be traveling or is away from his local precinct for any reason he must locate the nearest precinct wherever he happens to be and complete the sign up on schedule. The absentee cards will be distributed later to their local boards.

Regular election officials will be in charge of the registration but will turn over the completed cards to local draft boards, totaling 283 in California. The boards will arrange the lists in sequence from one to approximately 3500 in each of the draft districts, and it is then that John will get his "lucky" number.

CHOOSE BY LOTTERY

The next step is a huge lottery, to be conducted in Washington, to determine the order in which men later selected as suitable and available for service are actually called for training.

A number will be drawn by lot—the first one probably by President Roosevelt—and will correspond to the serial number held by one man in each of the local board areas. Successive numbers will be drawn in the same manner until the order is determined for all men registered under the program.

John will not be officially notified of his position in the drawing until he actually receives his questionnaire an eight page document which inquires minutely into every phase of our man's history and present circumstances.

The list of numbers will be published by the newspapers and broadcast by the radio, however, and if John is the least bit interested he will find out when his number comes up far in advance of the formal notification.

He will have five days to return the questionnaire properly filled out. It will then be up to the local board, composed of three persons of high standing in the community, to go through the lengthy forms and classify the registrants in four classes.

First selections for training will be made from the "class one" group, those in good physical condition, having no dependents and not engaged in essential industries. Those "deferred" and placed in the other three classes are subject to call later

Many Entries From This City Take Prize Money At Fair, Horse Show

Nevada County's third annual fair came to a close in Grass Valley last night after a successful three day run. Attendance for the three days was estimated in excess of 5,000.

The horse show, held yesterday afternoon and last night was the principal attraction of the final day's events. The show was featured by the appearance on the program of Time Supply and Microphone, famous horses now used for breeding at Errol MacBoyle's Loma Rica Stables near here.

Nevada City fruit, vegetable and flower and poultry growers came in for a considerable amount of the $7,700 awarded in prizes. Tom Ridinger of this city won prize money in two of the horse show events.

Local Booth Wins

The Nevada City Chamber of Commerce's excellently arranged booth, a miniature revolving map showing the Tahoe-Ukiah Highway, with Nevada City advertised as the Gateway to the Tahoe National Forest Wonderland, won second prize of $150 in the Community Booth classification. The Grass Valley Chamber of Commerce won the first prize.

Fair officials stated the only reason the local chamber did not take the first prize was because there was no agricultural theme to the booth. Sixty per cent of the scoring is for the quality and variety of agricultural products.

The Nevada City High School's booth attracted widespread attention and came in for its share of the prize money.

Excellent Flower Show

The display of flowers in the lobby of the Memorial Building received acclaim. The excellence of the blooms was further enhanced by perfect arrangement by Mrs. Paul Kemper of this city.

The poultry show in a huge tent in the rear of the building, was well attended. Jack Townsend of this city had charge of the poultry exhibits.

For granges and farm center booths, the Banner Grange won first prize of $180; Lime Kiln second, $150; Penn Valley, third, $125 and Peardale, fourth, $100.

In the Home Department and Home Economics booth competition Peardale took first prize of $180; Penn Valley, second, $150; Banner Grange Home Economics, third, $125 and Clear Creek, Lime Kiln, fourth, $100.

The feature apple display, 20 boxes, was awarded to the Grass Valley Memorial Hospital with Joel Bierwagen second and Thomas Mulcahy, third.

Many Gold Prizes

For Placer lode gold, Alfred Kramm won first prize, George Carter of Nevada City second and John Fontz, third. In the lode gold, display, classification C. J. DeMaria of McKeon won first prize, the New Brunswick Mine second and Stockton Hill third. For gold bearing gravels Ben Jenkins took first prize. For lode gold ores the Idaho-Maryland won first prize and the Stockton Hill second. The Lava Cap Mines took first place for its lode silver display. Dennis Coughlan of Nevada City took a second prize for his $500 nugget.

The famous Barbara Worth Stables of Sacramento, owned by Barbara Worth Zimmerman, captured the majority of prizes in the horse show events. Both Mrs. Zimmerman and her husband rode in the various events. In the evening performance, Mrs. Zimmerman thrilled the crowd of horse show enthusiasts by her excellent handling of draft horses, four in hand, to take first place in that classification.

Fair Praised

The fair spectators were practically unanimous in praising this year's fair as the best since the event was revived three years ago. Manager

Your Newspaper

The free press of the world, which means the press of America, will celebrate National Newspaper Week next month.

It will be a week set aside to honor the Nation's editors. the nation's reporters and the nation's printers.

Their importance today is no secret.

They supply us with the grist for the mills of the nation's thoughts and opinions. They are writing, editing and printing history. The newspaper today is a governor for a world machinery that is screaming in high gear.

The pages of your newspaper do not fall independently into place, nor print themselves. They represent organization judgment, hard work, certain and skilled knowledge of an exacting trade.

Getting out a newspaper on time, every edition, every day or week, is no picnic. And today, as never before, getting out a newspaper is vital.

That is why there is going to be a week set aside and dedicated to American newspapers and American newspapermen.

The newspaper is your friend. It is the watchdog of the public's interests. You welcome it into your home. It tells you stories that are exciting, educational, humorous, significant. It is your eyes and ears across the seas, on the other side of the continent. It is the mouthpiece of commerce, telling alike of the housewife with a stove to sell and the corporation with bonds to sell.

The newspaper is a teller of tales that make you laugh, that make you indignant, that make you sympathetic, that make you cry. It is never dull. It is always as accurate as human infallibility permits.

National Newspaper Week is a time for you to show your appreciation of the world's free press—of a press that can only be free because it is printed in a free country. — Contributed.

Rotary Affronts Japan

Up to last week there were 47 Rotary Clubs in Japan. Then they were dissolved. Their ethics affronted the new nationalism. The forces in control in Japan believe that the Chinese should submit to Japanese exploitation; that all the other teeming millions of Orientals should be sacrificed to the ambtion of comparatively tiny Nippon; that Americans and all other white peoples should give up trade concessions in favor of Japan. It is little wonder that Rotary International affronted the Japanese. The code of Rotary, which is, in essence the code of the Lions, Kiwanians, Exchange and similar service clubs, in part affirms: "Rotarians assert that human rights are not confined to Rotary Clubs, but are as deep and as broad as the race itself, and for these high purposes does Rotary exist to educate all men and all institutions—in belief in the universality of the Golden Rule, 'all things whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, do ye even so unto them.' We contend that society best holds together when equal opportunity is accorded all men in the natural resources of this planet."

The banning of half a hundred luncheon clubs in faraway Japan is not of vital importance in itself even to Rotary —with its thousands of American and Canadian clubs. The significance of the incident lies in the fact that another of the world's great nations has turned so completely to the principles of brutal materialism that it will no longer tolerate even the passive advocacy of the principles of common decency and equality of opportunity within its borders.—Contributed.

STATE CHAMBER BACKS HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENTS

H F. Sofge, secretary of the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce, reports that the highway committee of the State Chamber of Commerce, a meeting of which he attended last week, has agreed to support before the state highway commission three projected highway improvements in this vicinity of vital interest to everyone in Nevada and adjoining counties.

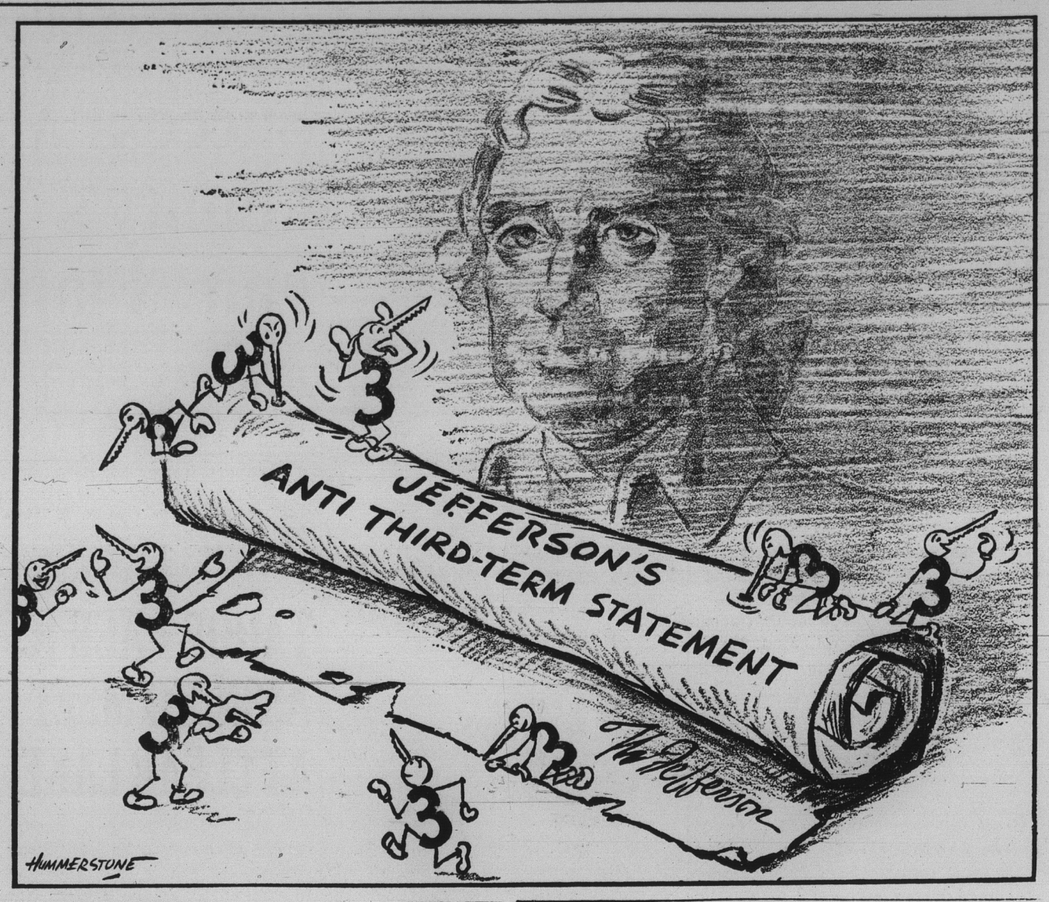

The first of these is the re-location and new construction of the road, perhaps a mile long, on the westerly approach to Bear Valley. At the meeting of the highway committee Sofge reported that in recent months there have been fourteen automobile accidents on the present crooked and steep grade leading into the valley. The cost has been estimated at $300,000, but later figures show that it will be much less than that.

The second project approved by the state chamber's highway committee is a continuance of the work already begun between here and North San Juan. It is proposed to improve seven miles more of the present highway at a comparatively low cost of $150,000.

The third project to receive the support of the committee is that of making a 4-lane highway between Nevada City and Grass Valley. This is estimated to cost $75,000. The need of it is reflected in the constantly increasing traffic between the two cities, and the rise in traffic hazards and accidents.

Secretary Sofge states that he is much in hopes that the board of Nevada county suervisors will adopt a strong resolution endorsing the three proposals. He says that the Tahoe-Pacific Highway No. 20 association, in which six counties are represented, is solidly behind the proposals, and that with the support of the supervisors and other chambers of commerce in the sections affected, he has high hopes that the state highway commission will order the work done.

THIRD TERMITES AT WORK

PROCEDURE

if and when the first list is exhausted.

APPEAL POSSIBLE

This will all be done without John being consulted personally, and he will be notified of his classification by postcard.

If he thinks he has been discriminated against, however, he can carry his case to a board of appeal, of which there will be 20 in California. If his appeal is based on the grounds he is physically unfit for service, there will be a similar number of medical boards organized to hear his arguments.

In round numbers, army officials estimate that about one in 40 of those registered will be drawn for service by the first of 1941. Additional numbers probably will be called during the remainder of the initial 12 months, and the entire program has five years to run.

General Mittelstaedt expects the California registration will total approximately 965,000, and of this total probably about 26,000 will be drawn for service by January 1, according to present plans.

COUNTY FAIR

Loyle Freeman said immediate plans have been started for next year's fair, which will be held in September on dates to be set in January.

The fair was sponsered by the 17th Agricultural District, of which H. R. Spiess of Grass Valley is president. District Attorney Vernon Stoll is vice president; and Eben K. Smart secretary. The directors are C. J. Rolph of Chicago Park, U. S. N. Johnson of Nevada City and John Bieber, Jack Frank, W. H. Goggin, Thomas Mulcahy and H. B. Cox.

THE BOYS FROM SYRACUSE OPENS HERE THURSDAY

The Boys from Syracuse will open at the Nevada Theatre Thursday evening for a two night engagement. The film is a literal translation of Georgia Abbott's successful Broadway musical hit, and the plot deals with ancient Greece, masters, slaves and a war between Syracuse and Ephesus.

The wives of masters and slaves are tangled in a little affair of the heart, but everything is smoothed out by putting on a singing contest in which the prettiest girl wins. A trumpet fanfare introduces the reigning duke and also sounds at his exits. The preview at Pantages theatre in Hollywood was a near riot.

ialization in farming, under which whole communities are devoted to raising one crop, whether it be grapes, figs, oranges, or lettuce. And second the introduction of mechanical equipment which eliminates large numbers of workers for most of the year.

The ultimate answer, and one which we feel confident will in time be made to this wretched condition, is a return to diversified farming. This will permit the growing a specialty crop, but along with it a variety of other products, that will not only give a more permanent status to farm workers, but will also be an insurance of the farm families own stability in times of stress. Moreover, under conditions of diversified farming there is greater opportunity for farm workers ultimately to become farm owners, since this type of farming also stabilizes to a large extent farm labor and increases the income of the individual worker, so that he can save money, if he has the will to do so, and ultimately own his own farm.

FINAL RITES HELD FOR G. V. WOMAN

Final rites were conducted at the Hooper-Weaver Mortuary in Grass Valley this afternoon for Mrs. Matilda Wasley, 75, a resident of Grass Valley 60 years. Mrs. Wasley, wife of W. J. Wasley, died in the Jones Memorial Hospital Friday night.

The deceased and her husband celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary several years ago.

Mrs. Wasley leaves five children. Fred Wasley, Leslie Wasley and Mrs. Edith Roscarlo of Sacramento, Albert Wasley of Marysville and Ernest Wasley of Grass Valley.

NEVADA CITY DUMPED BY PLACER IN TWO GAMES AT AUBURN FRIDAY

Local Gridiron Squads Make Good Showing In Initial Appearance of Year; Face San Juan Next

The Nevada City High School Yellowjackets suffered double setback on Placer Junior High School's gridiron last Friday night. The score of the A contest was 13 to 0 in favor of Placer and the Yellowjacket B squad was defeated by a 16 to 0 count.

The Yellowjackets gave the strong Placer teams stiff competition before bowing in defeat. Coach Ed Frantz was well pleased with the way the local high school players handled themselves.

Certain defects shown in both offensive and defensive play will be ironed out during this week by Coach Frantz in preparation for the game with San Juan at Fair Oaks Saturday.

The players seeing action in the A game Friday night were Al Spracklen, Bill Muscardini, Floyd Ruth, George Phillips, Kirk Martin, Bob Farmer, Norman Ronnigen, Kenneth Worthley, Harry Roberts, Craig Davies, Cliff Masterson, Ronald Joyal, Norman Haddy and Ben Barry. Joe Widauf and Geno Bunizzi also accompanied the team.

Spracklen's nose was injured early in the game In future games it will be necessary to use a nose guard. Bob Bonner, B team player, suffered a leg injury, necessitating four stitches to close the wound. It is probable Bonner will not see action for the next couple of weeks.

The B team members who played Friday night were:

MODESTO EASY WINNER OVER GRASS VALLEY

Hurt by the absence of three key players, the Grass Valley Miners lost a 14 to 2 baseball game to the Modesto Reds at Modesto yesterday afternoon. Grass Valley took the first game between the two teams a week ago by a score of 5 to 3.

Sylvester Gregory, Vernon Madan and Marz Dutra, three star players, who sparked the Miners to the championship of the Sacramento Valley League, failed to make an appearance yesterday, forcing Grass Valley to use inexperienced substitutes.

Manager Archie Campbell, seeking his 13th straight victory for his team, was pelted for 20 hits. Mel Wasley, Grass Valley youth, formerly with the Sacramento Solons, banged out three of the Miners nine hits.

The score:	R.	H.	E.
Modesto	14	20	2
Grass Valley	2	9	4

Batteries: Priest and Hand; Campbell and Simmons, Brock.

CUBS UNDER WAY

Friday evening, Mrs. Clyde Gwin president of the P. T. A. called a cub pack committee meeting at the elementary school. Present were: Thomas McCraney, Clyde Gwin, Cecil Klee, and Bert Foreman. Plans for registration and selecting a new cubmaster were discussed and the first pack meeting is slated for next Friday evening at the scout lodge. All boys who wish to become cubs are urged to attend the meeting. At this time it is hoped to present the new cubmaster and to divide the boys up according to districts and dens. New den chiefs as well as den locations will be announced at the Friday meeting. The following Tuesday, the dens will start functioning. Bert Foreman was selected as chairman of the committee for the following year.

AMERICAN BOY IS COMPANION TO THOUSANDS

Hundreds of thousands of boys and young men read THE AMERICAN BOY Magazine every month and consider it more as a living companion than as a magazine.

"It's as much a buddy to me as my neighborhood chum," writes one high school senior. "THE AMERICAN BOY seems to understand a boy's problems and considers them in such a sympathetic and helpful way. It gives advice and entertaining reading on every subject in which a young fellow is interested. It is particularly helpful in sports. I made our school basketball team because of playing tips I read in THE AMERICAN BOY."

Many famous athletes in all sports credit much of their success to helpful suggestions received from sports articles carried in THE AMERICAN BOY Magazine. Virtually every issue offers advice from a famous coach or player. Football, basketball, track, tennis, in fact every major sport is covered in fiction and fact articles.

Teachers, librarians, parents and leaders of boys' clubs also recommend THE AMERICAN BOY enthusiastically. They have found that as a general rule regular readers of THE AMERICAN BOY advance more rapidly and develop more worthwhile characteristics than do boys who do not read it.

Trained writers and artists, famous coaches and athletes explorers, scientists and men successful in business and industry join with an experienced staff to produce in THE AMERICAN BOY, the sort of reading matter boys like best.

THE AMERICAN BOY sells on most newsstands at 25c a copy. Subscription prices are $2.00 for one year or $3.50 for three years. Foreign and Canadian rates 50c a year extra. To subscribe simply send your name, address and remittance direct to THE AMERICAN BOY, 7430 Second Blvd., Detroit, Michigan.

COOPERATION OF DEER HUNTERS TO PREVENT FIRES URGED IN ADDRESS

Assistant Forest Supervisor Baxter Speaks Over Radio Station At Marysville

Assistant Tahoe National Forest Supervisor Ernest Baxter spoke over Radio Station KMYC in Marysville last week on deer hunting and forest conservation.

His talk was received with interest by many radio listeners. The assistant Supervisor spoke in conjunction with Frank Rock of the Twin Cities Rod and Gun Club.

Baxter's speech in part follows:

"The rangers of the Tahoe National Forest have asked me to invite you to come up to the forest and enjoy some fine deer hunting this season. Although I haven't any deer staked out, I can direct you to where you should find one. You know, the average nimrod has his own idea where the big ones are. You will find deer most any place you care to hunt on the forest. Some of the better known hunting areas are the Five Lakes and Hell Hole Region west of Lake Tahoe and the open timbered hills between Truckee and Sierraville. The hardier hunters prefer the rugged summit of the Sierras around Independence Lake, Coburn Lake, Sierra Buttes and other out of the way places. I suggest that you stop at one of our seven district rangers headquarters, obtain directions on how to reach the more inaccessible areas and secure up to the minute hunting information.

"Possibly many of you folks have made up a fair proportion of the 25,000 hunters and 35,000 fishermen who visited the forest last year. A total of 1,500 deer were bagged, but we do not have an accurate estimate of limits of fish caught; however, we do know that thousands of limits were taken from the streams and the lakes. Last year a million and a half trout were planted in the streams and lakes on the forest by the fish and game commission with the cooperation of the forest service and sportsmen's associations. This year over 2 million trout will be planted. This gives you some idea of the demand for fish and game on the forest.

Most Hunters True Sports

"Most of the hunters are true sportsmen and are very careful with fire in the woods. They leave their camp fires dead out and do not smoke except in camp or at posted areas. Some hunters are not so careful and have caused an average of ten hunter fires each year. The causes of these fires were: abandoned camp fires, warm up fires, and careless smoking. A careful investigation is made of the origin of each man caused fire to determine its origin. It is possible, in nearly all cases, to say definitely what class of people and in many cases, the individuals, who were responsible for the fire and how it started. It is only after a careful investigation that the cause of the fire is decided upon.

"Our preventive campaign is carried on all year. Of course, we use low enforcement as a strong preventive, but one of our strongest measures is education. We endeavor to reach and teach all forest users the proper care of fire in the woods. The educational campaign is carried on through the schools, clubs, organizations, newspapers, by placing informative signs along the roads and trails and through personally contacting the users in the woods. Last year we issued 5,000 fire prevention pledge cards to hunters Each hunter, upon accepting this card, pledged himself to act as a voluntary fire prevention officer. Although last year was one of the driest fire seasons in Northern California, we had only two fires attributable to deer hunters. We believe the thousands of hunters who signed these pledge cards helped us to prevent many fires from starting, and we give them due credit for their fire prevention effort T his year we again placed about 5,000 of these fire prevention pledge cards with out camp fire permit agents and interested clubs near the forest. Our hope is that each hunter will voluntarily assist us in eliminating all hunter fires.

"The rangers and hunters who have been checking over the hunting areas report that the deer are plentiful and much fatter than usual. The recent thunder storms and scattered showers has improved the hunting conditions but has not eliminated the danger from fires. I want to urge all hunters to be extremely careful with fire and make certain those warming fires are out when left. I also want to urge the hunters to obtain their camp fire permit before going hunting. By getting the camp fire permit before the start, they will be reminded about that shovel and axe, which is required of each car or pack train while camping on national forests."
